Dr. Wallace To Take Post At Missoula

PULLMAN, Wash. (UPI)—Resignation of Dr. Robert F. Wallace, associate professor of economics at Washington State University, to become chairman of the department of economics at Montana State University was announced Wednesday.

Wallace, who has been on the WSU faculty since 1947, will remain here until Sept. 15 to complete an assignment for the WSU bureau of economics and business research.

He served on faculties of the University of Kansas, Park College and University of Minnesota before coming here. He has taken several leaves of absence from WSU to serve as consultant for the Central Intelligence Agency, International Cooperation Administration and Colonial Game Department of British East Africa. He also has done research for the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta.
